Picture the Opportunities

Honeywell's Analog Converter Unit (ACU) can convert any analog camera to digital—providing you with more flexibility for your video installations and the opportunity to offer Total Connect on each and every sale. Just picture what it can do for your business!

- Makes any existing camera Total Connect-ready, letting you offer more customers secure, remote look-in from PCs or compatible smartphones, video motion detection, event notification and more
- Easy plug and play installation
- Connects to any network switch, router or Honeywell's Wireless Access Point (WAP)
- Great opportunity to revisit commercial accounts

- Has a video pass-through connection for direct NTSC video feed to a local monitor
- Includes LED indicators for Network, Active and Power
- Ethernet, connection for CAT5 cable from broadband modem or network to RJ-45 terminal
- Power plug-in 12VDC transformer included
